A NEW APPROACH TO TESTING

The Axon Sports CCAT Baseline test establishes a benchmark for cognitive function by measuring the speed and accuracy of different aspects of thinking which include speed, attention, learning and working memory. The Axon Sports CCAT is not predisposed to practice effects. Evidence validating the Axon Sports technology is contained in multiple publications and peer reviewed journals. Widely used internationally, Axon Sports technology is quickly gaining traction in the USA. University of Notre Dame and University of Michigan have been using the technology for years.
